

From Heads Unworthy

By, Rise Against

We are the children you reject and disregard
These aching cries come from the bottom of our hearts
You can't disown us now, we are your own flesh and blood

And we don't disappear just because your eyes are shut, now tell me

Love, loss
Like a bullet's path
Tear through
The cavity of my chest
Lights out
Because the fuse has blown

As their castles crumble slowly
We watch them fall
Their crown slips from heads unworthy
As we gain control

This is the family that we crossed or never had
This is a war that was lost the day it began
'Cause it's the race we run, but it keeps us at the start And it's the song I sung from the bottom of my heart, that's how we

Read you
Like a polygraph

Not one
Single bone in your back

Own up
To how you let us down

As their castles crumble slowly
We watch them fall
Their crown slips from heads unworthy
As we gain control

Except for you and me, love Everyone's the same, we know, we know, we know, we know

But if to live, we have to be numb
I'd rather know the pain, I'd rather know, I'd rather know

This happens almost never
But it happened once to me
And this will never be the same
The ends we seam together

I'm not after fame and fortune
I'm after you
When I've served my time I swear I
Will come back for you
(Watch them fall)

We watch them fall
And right onto us
But, I'm after you
I'm after you
I'm after you
Yeah, I'm after you
